“The value of FMC for Homecare Homebase is it’s one of the few industry conferences that has a national-level financial focus. This is valuable to us because we are able to discuss in-depth our company’s analytics tools with home health & hospice financial executives. It’s a level of conversation that doesn’t normally happen at most shows.”

- Janna Schulze, Marketing Event Manager, Homecare Homebase

“The NAHC Financial Management Conference and Expo is a premier event for industry leaders to address some of the most pressing issues in home care and hospice today. The event has grown to unite providers, consulting experts, technology leaders and others with a strong spirit of collaboration as we work to position home-based care as a stronger facilitator of quality and cost efficiency across the U.S. healthcare system. With so much riding on the financial health of home-based care organizations, this event is the place to be for solutions, support and effective partnerships moving into 2020.”
